CALL FOR ABSTRACTS

The International Academy of Aviation and Space Medicine encourages high quality and relevant presentations of the latest aerospace medicine research, policy developments, and interesting clinical cases at its annual Congress. Authors who wish to present at the Congress, either an oral podium talk or a poster, are requested to submit an abstract of their intended presentation for review by the Academy Scientific Committee dealing with the following subjects.

- aerospace physiology;
- operational aviation medicine;
- clinical aviation medicine;
- human factors;
- aeromedical selection, policies and regulations;

Abstracts must be submitted online through links provided on the Congress website and below. On the website is described the submission process.

Abstract submission page: <https://www.iaasm.org/ICASM2017/index.cfm>

The submission deadline is 31 May 2017. As an encouragement for younger authors to submit abstracts, those who have their abstract accepted and are 35 years of age or less, on 31 May 2017 will be refunded 100,00 Euros from the full registration fee.
